

OVERVIEW MAPS

Maps 5-9 present the percent of Native Hawaiian/Part Hawaiian population by school complexes in the State of Hawai‘i. The data relating to Native Hawaiian/Part Hawaiian are from the 2000 Census and include individuals who self identify themselves as belonging to that ethnic group. A school complex is defined as the geographic area encompassed by a public high school and all of its feeder elementary and intermediate schools. There are 43 school complexes in the State. Note that although the number of school complexes identified by the Department of Education may vary from year to year, the Center on the Family uses the 43 units on which the U.S. Bureau of the Census reports its data. For the purpose of this report, the “community” names of these geographic areas are used, rather than the names of the high schools.

As illustrated in the maps that follow, Native Hawaiians/Part Hawaiians comprise 19.8% of the State’s people. The school complexes with the densest population of Hawaiians (32.1% - 82% of population) are:

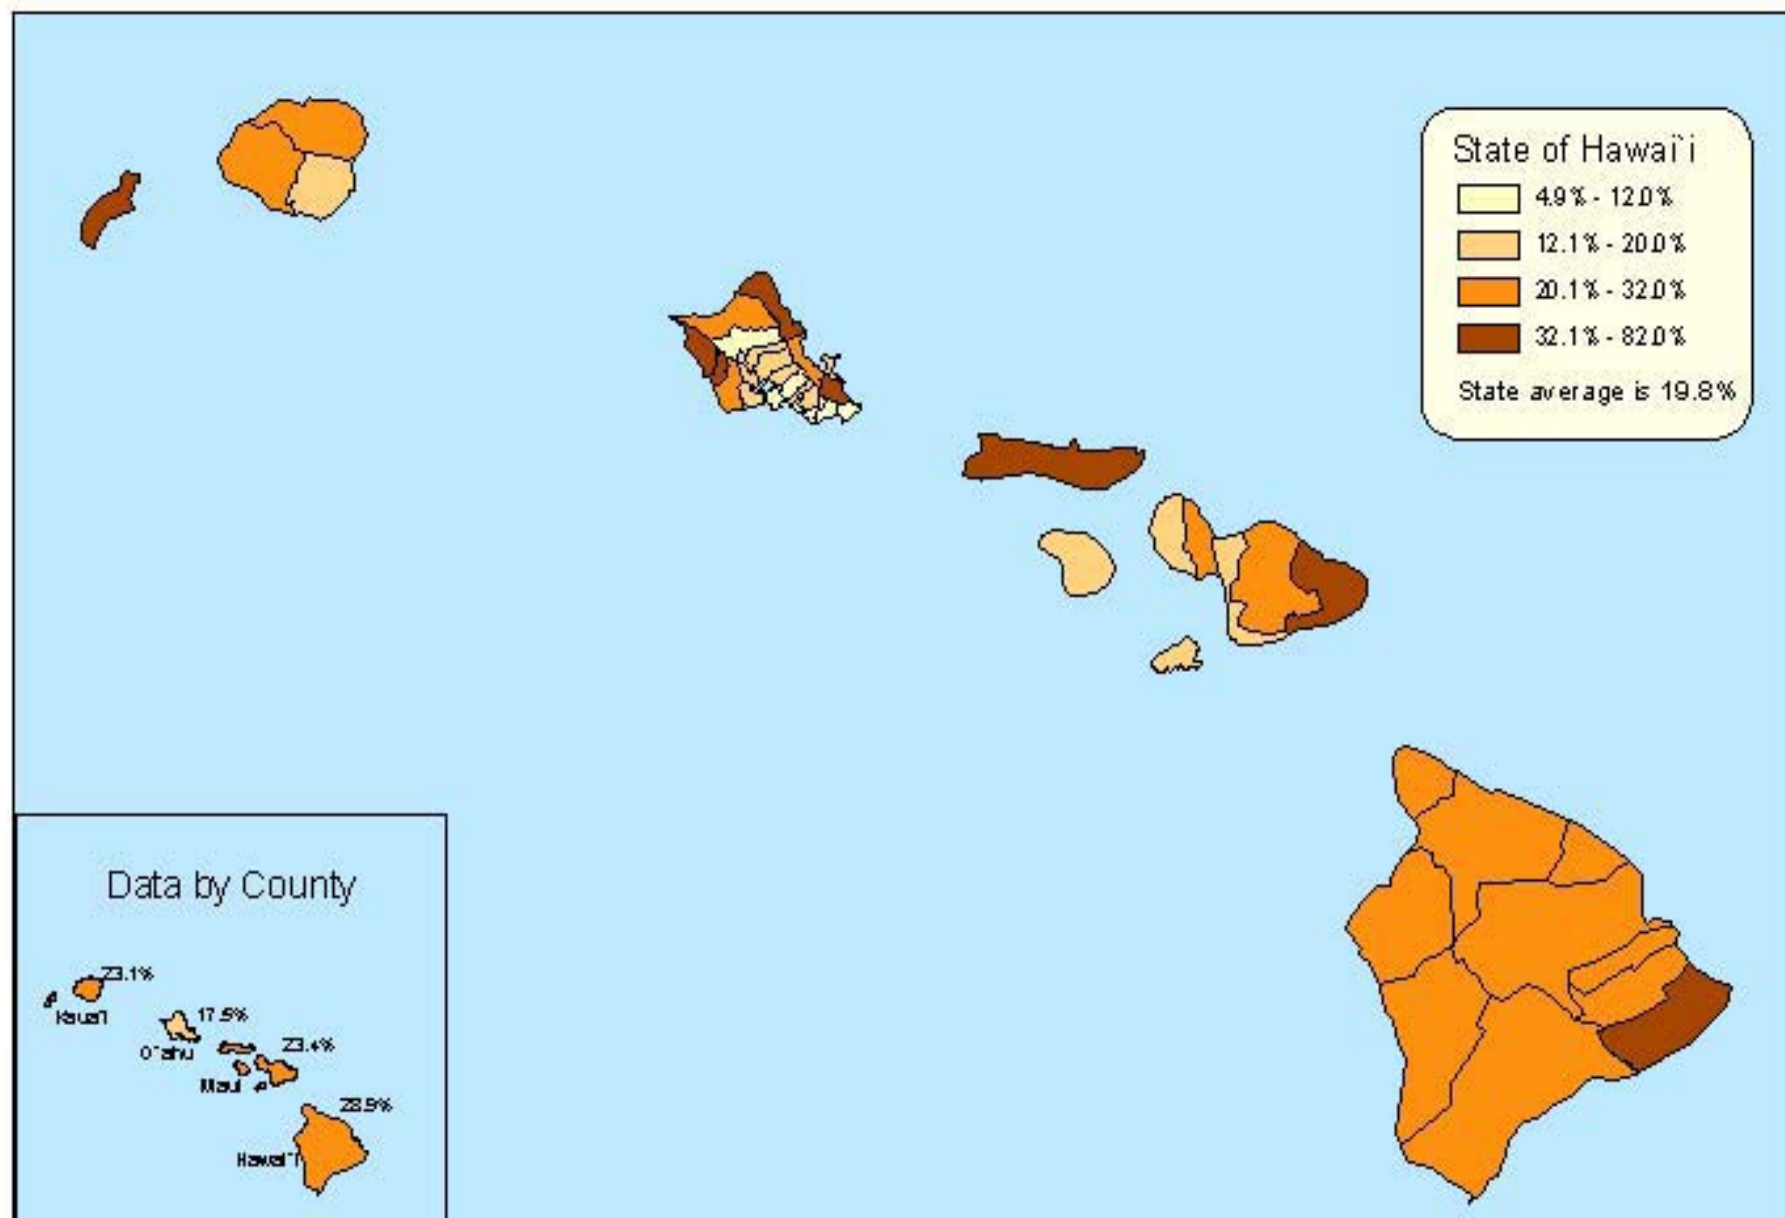

- City and County of Honolulu: Kahuku/Lā‘ie, Kailua/Waimānalo, Wai‘anae, and Nānākuli
- Hawai‘i County: Pāhoa
- Kaua‘i County: Ni‘ihau
- Maui County: Hāna, Moloka‘i

The areas with the lightest concentration of Hawaiians (4.9% – 12.0%) are all on the island of O‘ahu and consist of the following:

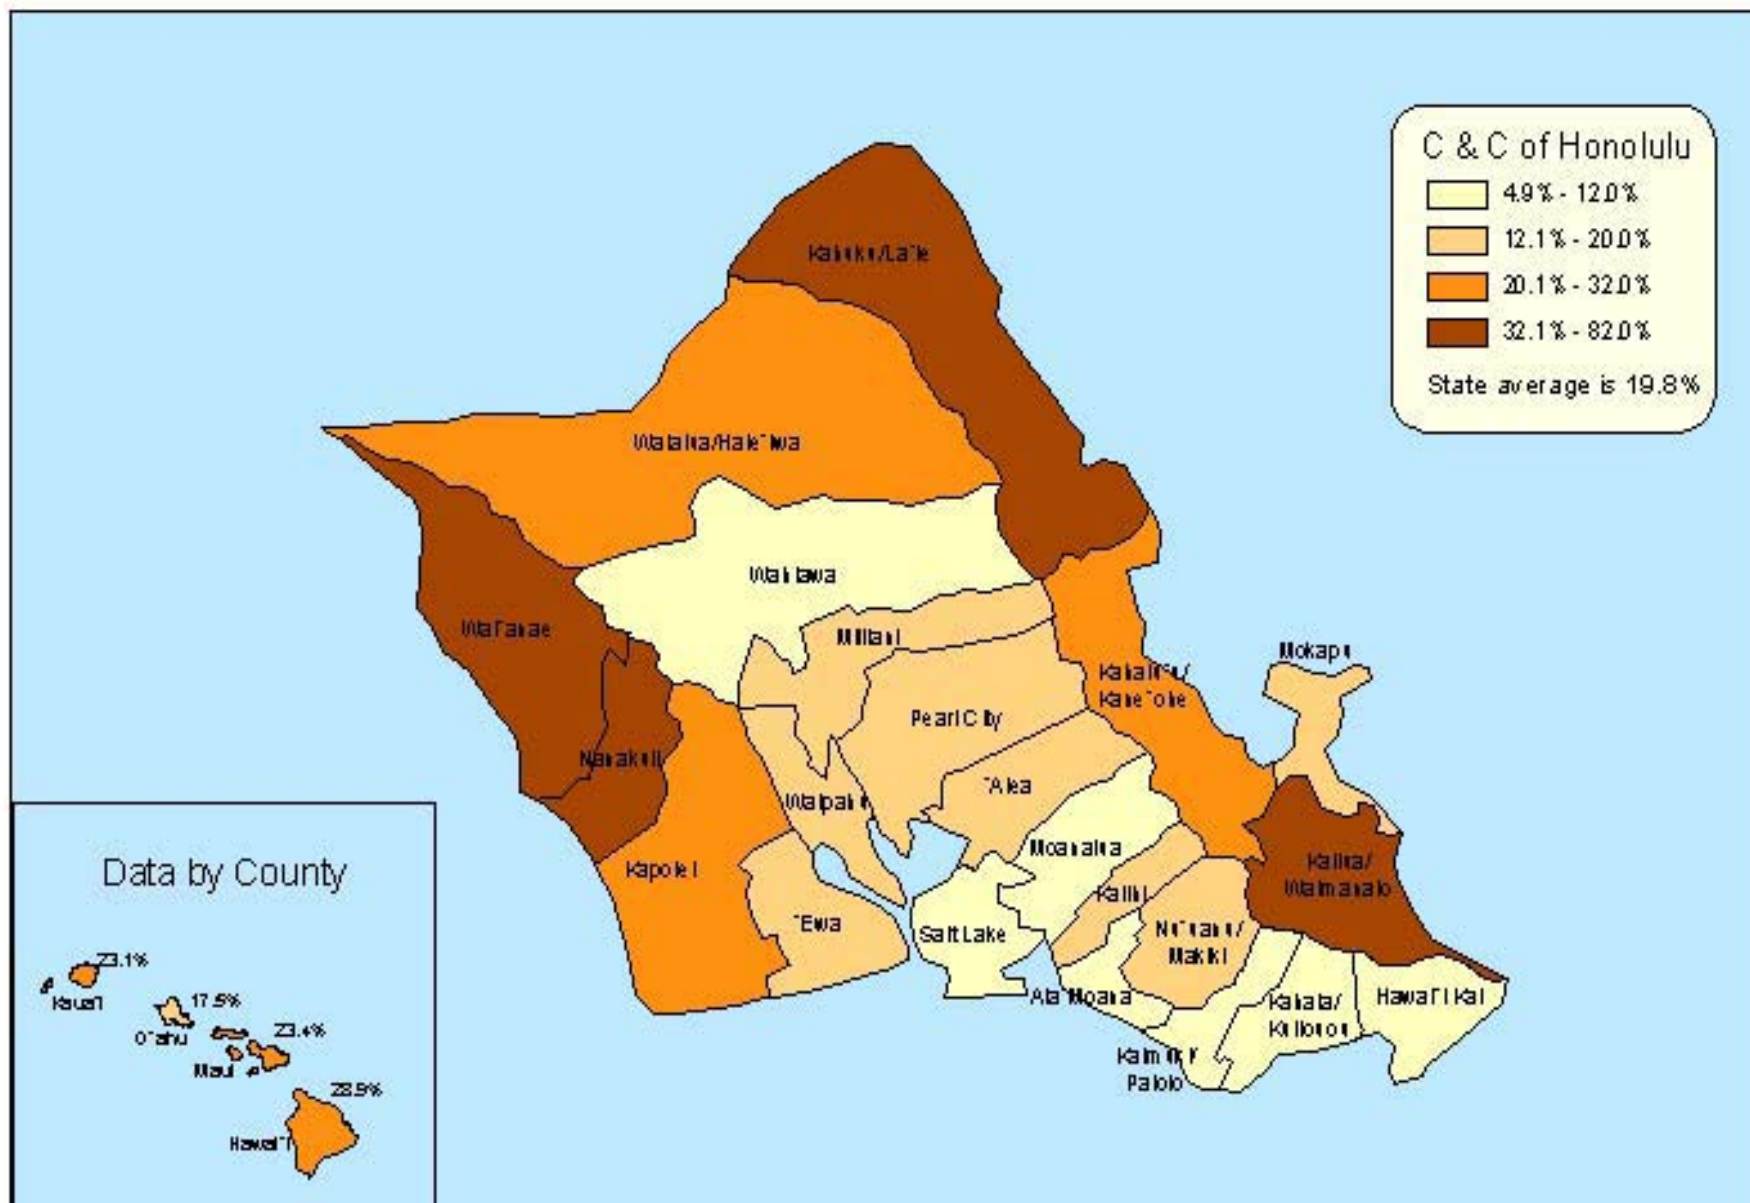

- City and County of Honolulu: Wahiawā, Moanalua, Salt Lake, Ala Moana, Kaimukī/Pālolo, Kahala/Kuli‘ou‘ou, and Hawai‘i Kai

In general, Hawaiians tend to live on the neighbor islands, particularly on the Big Island, and along the coast line of O‘ahu, rather than its inner corridor.
