HAWAI'I P-20 COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS INDICATORS REPORTS

The College and Career Readiness Indicator Reports present information on how well Hawai'i's public school graduates are prepared for college and are the result of an annual collaboration between the Hawai'i State Department of Education and the University of Hawai'i, coordinated by Hawai'i P-20 Partnerships for Education. The indicators presented fall into three categories: (1) high school outcomes (high school completers, on-time graduation rate, advanced placement, running start participants, and college board SAT scores); (2) college enrollment (college enrollment nationwide and at the University of Hawai'i); and (3) high school to college transition (mathematics and English enrollment at UH). Data highlights for Hawai'i's class of 2012 include the following:

- The percentage of students taking advanced placement exams increased from 19% in 2010 to 24% in 2012.
- A total of 50% of students took the College Board entrance exam (also known as the SAT) in 2012, an increase from 2010 (44%).
- The percentage of students requiring remedial English classes at UH dropped from 36% in 2010 to 31% in 2012.

Full reports by public high school can be found on the P-20 website: <http://www.p20hawaii.org/resources/college-and-career-readiness-indicators-reports/2012-ccri-data/>.
